

ABOUT THE LABORATORY

Hello from TLC.

True Life Ceramics is a private crown/bridge, denture and implant laboratory dedicated to fabricating only the highest quality aesthetic restorations. Owned and operated by Larry Borgeson and Jonathan Newborough. Both Larry & Jonathan believe in producing only the highest quality oral restorations, utilizing the worlds best materials and most-up-to-date technology. To create this standard of work, we concentrate on fulfilling our potential through attending educational courses and open communication between the dentist, patient, dental nurse and the laboratory.

Larry is a leading technician with his area of expertise in crown, bridge and implants. Larry has worked as a Vita Master Ceramic technical instructor specializing in all-ceramic, metal-ceramic and implant crown and bridge construction. He has lectured extensively to dental technicians, dentists and dental nurses both in the UK and abroad. Larry has received numerous awards for his outstanding laboratory skills, to name a few, Air Force top technician, top graduate for both the advance crown/bridge and advanced ceramics/implant courses.

Jonathan is one of the finest prosthetic technicians in the UK, he started his career in 2001 working alongside both dentists and clinical dental technicians, learning his trade to an extremely high standard. Jonathan graduated from Langside College, Glasgow with his national diploma in 2007. He has attended multiple advanced courses to maintain his high standards. He was a finalist for the Dental Technicians Association (DTA) young technician of the year award in 2009. He is an advanced technician in implant retained prosthetics, full and partial dentures.
